

INDIVIDUAL DIFFERENCES

DR. JOTSNA KAMBLE

DEFINITION OF INDIVIDUAL DIFFERENCES:

- Individual differences can be defined as personal characteristics that distinguish learners from each other in the teaching and learning processes. Learners are unique individuals who bring a critical set of variables to each learning situation, including delicate traits as indicators of their potential and the history of achievement as signs of previous accomplishments and predictors of future performance.

INDIVIDUAL DIFFERENCES:

- Age
- Sex
- Intelligence
- Multiple intelligences

INDIVIDUAL DIFFERENCES:

- Emotional intelligence
- Socio economic background
- Interests
- Introvert
- Extrovert.