Hast-Likhit (Manuscript)

Theme – 75 years of Impendence of India

Students' representative – Apporva Yelegaonkar

Prof. in-charge – Dr. Suresh G. Isave

Introduction:

In the academic year 2021-2022, our esteemed B.Ed. college embarked on a unique endeavour to celebrate and commemorate the 75th anniversary of India's independence. The objective was not only to pay homage to our nation's journey but also to instil crucial skills, such as higher-order thinking and the art of handwriting, in our students.

The Manuscript Making Activity:

Under the banner of "Making Manuscripts," our college organized a special event where each cell group was tasked with crafting handwritten articles on the theme, "75 Years of Independence of India." This theme allowed students to delve into various facets of India's growth, including science, technology, sports, and political leadership.

Skill Development:

1. Research Skills: The activity required students to research extensively, enabling them to gather and synthesize information from diverse sources. This enhanced their research skills, a crucial asset in the information age.
2. Writing Proficiency: Writing articles by hand challenged students to maintain legibility, coherence, and grammar. This helped them improve their writing proficiency and attention to detail.
3. Communication Skills: Through their articles, students effectively communicated their ideas, opinions, and perspectives, enhancing their communication skills.
4. Critical Thinking: Students were encouraged to critically analyze the progress India has made in different fields, fostering critical thinking abilities.

Higher Order Thinking Skills:

The process of creating manuscripts demanded higher-order thinking skills:

1. Analysis: Students had to analyze historical events, scientific advancements, and political changes to paint a holistic picture of India's journey since independence.
2. Synthesis: Collating data from various sources and organizing it into coherent articles required students to synthesize information effectively.

3. Evaluation: Students evaluated the significance of India's achievements and its impact on the global stage, promoting evaluative thinking.

Importance of Handwriting in the Machine Age:

In today's digital era, the art of handwriting holds immense significance:

1. Personal Touch: Handwritten manuscripts carry a personal touch that is absent in typed documents, making the reader feel more connected to the author.
2. Cognitive Benefits: Writing by hand engages the brain differently than typing, promoting better memory retention and comprehension.
3. Preservation of Tradition: Emphasizing handwriting preserves a tradition that has been part of our culture for centuries.

Conclusion:

The "Making Manuscripts" activity at our B.Ed. college successfully combined the celebration of India's 75 years of independence with skill development and higher-order thinking. It highlighted the importance of handwriting in the machine age, reaffirming its role in preserving tradition and enhancing cognitive skills. Through this initiative, we have empowered our students to be not only better writers but also critical thinkers and communicators, equipping them for success in the modern world.
